

4. Tillaeastrum Pringlei Rose,* sp. nov.

Delicate little plants growing in masses in damp mountain soil, 2-3 cm. high; leaves linear, 3-4 mm. long, acute; flowers axillary, solitary on very short peduncles, 1 mm. or less long, in fruit becoming 3 mm. long; carpels obtuse; seeds oblong, not papillose-roughened.

Collected by C. G. Pringle, September, 1896, Serrania de Ajusco, Federal District, Mexico (no. 6517).